January 2010 Newsletter

We will begin this newsletter by wishing all our families a healthy, happy, and blessed New Year!

This winter month lends itself to an abundance of cold weather related ideas. Of course, snow plays a big part of these projects. Snow will come inside to play with, watch melt, and paint. It will be fun to watch the inches fall this winter season.

Three King's Day will be celebrated with everyone in the M-W-F class making a crown. In addition to our winter curriculum, we will be making and eating gingerbread. Our classroom will come alive with a winter garden. We will be discovering root vegetables and how they grow. The children will also have fun making bird feeders for their homes. Watch for your child's winter art to come home with cold winter colors!

This month we will start an evaluation process with each child in the M-W-F class that will be presented to you during the month of February at our parent/teacher conferences.

The Scholastic Book Program is now online. If you would like to order books, the website is clubs.scholastic.com

Our open registration continues. Applications are available for all classes. Please speak with a teacher should you need one. Also, spread the word. You, our parents, are our best advertisement. Thank you!
